

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Various Affairs Will Take Place Today—Further Preparations Are on for the Annual Pony Show at Wynnewood

ONE would think that there would have been enough tickets to go around last night at the performance of the Mask and Wig at the Metropolitan, but it seems not so, for aren't Mrs. Billie Freeman and Mrs. Spencer Miller, 3d, and a whole bunch of others going to motor down to Wilmington today for dinner and the performance of the Mask and Wig in that town, and the C. A. Heckscher Wetherills will also entertain at the performance down there.

Really, after a very quiet week in social circles there is quite a little doing today and tonight. In the first place, the Arthur Emlen Newboulds are giving a small dinner-dance for Dorothy at the Log Cabin on their estate at Laverock. The men are leaving so soon for training camps and actual duty, it is a wise plan to give them a good time while they are with us; hence the small party tonight.

Then in town the Harrison K. Caners will entertain for Rachel Fitter at a theatre party followed by supper, when the other guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Koons Caner, Jr., Katharine Lea, Miss Mary Wynn, Emma Dorr, Frances Tyson, Isabel Page, Holstein de Haven Fox, Snowden Samuel, Henry Tattall, Rodman Wister, David Van Pelt, Morris Merritt, Shippen West, Emlet Wood, Lieutenant Forde Todd and James Carter, Jr.

MANY children of fashionable society will be among the exhibitors at the annual pony show which is to be held on the estate of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Clothier, at Wynnewood, on May 15, in aid of Workman Place House.

For weeks preparations have been going on for the show, which is the biggest event of the spring season for the children, and the finishing touches are now being put on the training of the ponies—and the kiddies, too, in some cases.

Many of the children have been denied the privilege of jumping their ponies before this year—except, of course, when no one was looking—and there has been much schooling of miniature horses recently by miniature horsemen and horsewomen. It is certain that the show is going to prove attractive.

Entries for the pony show close on Monday with Mrs. Victor C. Mather at Havorford. Already a long list of competitors has come forward and it is expected that the main classes will bring many additional contenders. There will be thirteen classes, two of them jumping classes. Special contests will be held for large and small ponies and there will be two championship classes, one for harness ponies and one for saddle ponies. Cups will be presented as first prizes in every class, ribbons being held for second and third place winners.

Children more than fifteen years old are barred from the show—that is, as riders and drivers. That means that some of the youngsters who took part in the original exhibition several years ago are reaching the limit of competition. However, there are others to take their places, and it is unlikely that the pony show will ever lose its popularity and attractiveness.

Mrs. Clothier, chairman of the general committee which has supervision over the pony show and the other attractions, has announced that in the event of rain on May 16 the affair will be postponed until the following day.

The doll show is to be judged by children. The biggest, smallest, prettiest, oddest and best dressed dolls all will receive prizes. Eleanor Gamble, of Havorford, is in charge of the doll show and is receiving the entries.

Marion Taylor is chairman of the department of the bazaar which will represent the settlement for which the entertainment is to be given. Miss Taylor will be assisted by Marie Landreth, Elean Neath, Anita Sanders and Estelle Sanders. The cake department is headed by Marjorie Townsend as chairman, and her assistants will include Alice Scott, Margaretta Benson, Mrs. Robert A. Torrey, Mary Wister and Mrs. T. Wistar Brown, 3d.

Mrs. Nettie Page is chairman of the candy section and will be assisted by Mrs. Freeman Bewley, Mrs. Jacob S. Diston, Jr., Eleanor Carpenter, Nancy Dunning, Mrs. Edward Le Boutillier, Mary Hopper Howland, Adelaide S. Newlin, Margaret Shober, Elizabeth Taylor and Louise Thompson.

The luncheon and ice cream and cake department will have quite an array of younger members of society as aides. Jean Thompson will be the chairman, and her assistants will include Mrs. Brooke, Mrs. Frederick L. Ballard, Frances Borsal, Lucille Carter, Nancy Wynne Cook, Mrs. William Diston, Edith Eddy, Edith Ellison, Mary Harlan, Cornelia Leidy, Mrs. Arthur Lowrey, Margaretta Myers, Mary Hancock, Mrs. S. Carey Potter and Pansy Scott.
